WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. The very air ho been thick and heavy with rence remors to-day. A fresh lingeting has been given them by the development of the fact that the distinguished Democratic politician alluded to in the morning papers as having also gene to Richmond on a peace mission by permission of the President, is no less a personage than Gen. Singleton of Illands. He only proceded Frank Blair by a day or two.

Coupled with this, it is said in a re out see sion of the rebel Congress McMillan's resolutions, reproduced some time since, have been agreed to, and three Commissioners have been selected on the part of the Confederacy to mee at Grant's headquarters. Their names are said to be, Mr. Orr. of Sonth Carolina; Mr. G'unore, of North Carolina, and Mr. Alex. II. Stephens. re el Vice-l'resident.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 1, 1564.

The atmosphere, for some days past, has een ladened with rumors of peace. Our teleite interesting on the subject. The statecents made bear marks of probability. It is bers of the Rejublican party, and Gen. Singleton, a prominent Democratic politician of Idnois, have gone to Richmond on a mission devoted to pea e. It is announced, Iso, that the rebel Congress, in persuance of a resolution dopted by that body, has selected Mr. Orr, of South Carolina, Mr Gimer, of North Carolina, and Alex. II. Step hens, the rebel Vice-President, as peace commis loners on the part of the e issues of the war Messrs. Blair and Singleon are instructed by the uthorities at Washneton to offer these terms to the relela, viz universal mnesty; the Con titution as it is, the Union as it was; and the adoption by the ining to greet the dawn of better day. And most cordially would we well om rein einward a speedy adjustment of this straggle without shedding another drop of Good. But we fear to tru t the rumors now addet. We do not trust them. Their propriv however, through varied revolutions, had become deatly involved, and the leaders hoted, from promises held out by Maximilian. that under his rule, when firmly established, they would be enabled to regain their onwhich he could not safely interfere with, and now he is greetly perplexed as to how he shall save his own purse and yet redeem his pledges to the Church. Lately, the zeal of the Church party, in behalf of the new Empire, has seriousdiminished, and much support on which Maximilian relied has been knocked from uuder him. He now apprehends a strong effort by that party to overthrow his authority and no roll beneath him. He has arraved against him now both the people and the Church. The In perial crown of Mexico rests upon an uneas-

We learn that Hon. A. O P. Nicholson f Memi his, who was Governor Andrew Johnrlor to the war, has returned to his home at columbia after a long sojourn within the rebel lnes. Mr Nicholson, we have always understood, never gave a hearty approval to seces ion. His convictions were loyal to the counut against rebellion when his own State espoused it. Had his position in the U.S. Senate been more emphatically hostile to seces slon, his influence would have largely con tributed to keep Tennessee ont of the revolution. He has determined now to give no further support to the rebellion, which he regards as a hopeless cause, and we sincerely trust that his heart is inspired anew with love whomors, and he will return to the field for the old flag. In 1850, when the celebrated disuplon convention met at Nashville, A. O. P. We commend his Nicholson spoke eloquently and with marked qualities, respect his candor, and accord ability for his country. The wretched sate of our country days ads a test of we men's most potent and soothing ness. To be good, and to do good, should be the one great athlete of our characters, and if we go forth up on the broad arena of life with any other motive in virw, we are but a hindrance and stum ling block to our fellow-creatures. I would like to be one of the ministering angels to soothe man's rugged pathway in this fraternal contest; and I hope I am, "No pleasure so sweet as that of feeling we have discharged our duty toward God and mankind." But to return to the opera, lady readers for I know you feel an interest in my handsome tion we bear to each other. I hope the interest will not decrease when I break the novelty and tell you it is that near and dear relation of husland and wife. He has gone now, and I lay aside the opera costume to return to the domestic circle, where tran uillity and peace are

A FEARITL RIDE-NARROW Escape. One of A FFARIET. RIDF—NARROW Escape.—One of the frequent occurring accidents on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad happened to the incoming accommodation train Wednesday night. At a point some seven miles beyond Cameron, one of the passenger ears was thrown from the track upon the ties. The train was unning at good speed and the jolting, careening car, as it was drawn over the ties, gave the freightened passengers a lively conception of rough riding. On flew the fearfully tossed car, the passengers hoping the while that it might rough riding. On flew the fearfully tossed car, the passengers hoping the while that it might be saved from the vawning dich that lay beside the track.
